

MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE.

Entered as Second-Class Matter Friday, February 18th, 1904 at the Postoffice at Barbourville, Knox County, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.
MOTTO—LIVE FOR OUR FRIENDS—DO THE GREATEST AMOUNT OF GOOD WE CAN TO THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PEOPLE.

Terms: $1. Per Year In Advance.

BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1905.

Second Year. Vol. 2. No. 2.

CHAIRMAN

BYRLEY

Intercedes With President Roosevelt in Behalf of Judge Denton.

Chairman W. W. Byrley left town the first of last week very quietly and no one here knew of his whereabouts until Sunday morning, when the following appeared in the Louisville Times:

"W. W. Byrley, of Knox county, chairman of the Eleventh District Republican Committee, came to Washington and endorsed Judge Denton for Collector. Mr. Byrley saw President Roosevelt and declared that the appointment of J. Sherman Cooper would not meet with the approval of the Republicans of the district. Byrley's appearance was a distinct blow to the Edwards-Cooper man. Judge Denton will remain here until the fight is settled."

The fight between Judge Denton and Judge Cooper for the Collectorship of this district, seems as far from being settled now as it was some time ago. Mr. Edwards, the Congressman-elect, from this district, made the recommendation of Judge Cooper to the President, and the appointment was about to be sent to the Senate for approval before Judge Denton became aware of the situation. His friends have taken up the fight for him, and it now looks as though Judge Denton may win his fight.

Judge Denton has only held this appointment four years and has given entire satisfaction, and the only against him is, Judge Cooper wants the job. Now that Chairman Byrley has taken up the fight to retain Judge Denton we predict that Judge Cooper will wait for some time before he succeeds in ousting the gentleman from the seat he so much desires.

We will watch the progress of this contest with much interest and wait to see the final outcome.

Pardoned.

Wm. Miller, who was sentenced at the last April term of the Knox Circuit Court to two years in the State prison, and who has been confined in the county jail here since awaiting the action of the Court of Appeals, received Wednesday evening through J. F. Hawn, of this city, a pardon from the Governor.

This will be good news to his friends, and we trust will be the means of making a better man of him.

OPERA HOUSE

And Red Men's Hall Contemplated by Tchopitoulas Tribe No. 111.

Plans are beginning to take form by which our town may in the near future be the proud possessor of a neat and comfortable opera house, something that all of our citizens would appreciate and enjoy.

If the necessary arrangements can be made as to the location it is now expected that steps will be taken with the opening of springtime to erect within our town a beautiful three-story block with the first floor to be used as business houses, the second story to be converted into a neat, commodious opera house, while the third floor will be used as a lodge room for Tchopitoulas tribe of Red Men.

The plans as now proposed is to form a stock company and organize with a capital stock sufficient to erect and furnish the building. Let everyone who desires to subscribe and pay for such amount of stock as they care to own in the company. The revenue derived from the building would no doubt pay a handsome dividend upon the investment and no one would be taxed heavily to build and equip the building. Then our town could boast of having one of the newest and most attractive buildings in the mountains.

We heartily approve of the plan and sincerely trust that the plan may be successfully engineered until it is made a success.

Every Red Man who has discussed the proposition is heartily in accord with the plan; and we see no reason now why it should fail.

Let everyone lend a helping hand and let's build up Barbourville and make it a model town, and no better way to start it than the plan proposed could be conceived.

Let's have a new opera house.

Death of James J. Stewart.

James J. Stewart, formerly a resident of this city, died at Garden City, Cal., last Friday after an illness of three weeks.

Mr. Stewart was uncle of Mrs. William Lock, of this city, and will probably be remembered by some of the older settlers here. The San Jose Mercury and Herald of last Sunday says:

Mr. Stewart was born near Barbourville, Ky., in September, 1826. He lived at that place until a young man, when he removed to Missouri. While living in Barbourville he married Miss Alice Angle in 1847. In 1864 Mr. and Mrs. Stewart came West as far as Columbia, Boone county, Mo. A short while after their removal to Columbia the Civil War broke out and in the spring of 1861 he enlisted in the First Provisional Regiment of Missouri. He stood with his regiment about fourteen months and then mustered out as a corporal. The reason he left the army before the war was over was on account of ill health, he being acutely sensitive to pneumonia.

After farming for a few years in Boone county, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Stewart crossed the plains in 1875 to this State.

Mr. Stewart was a prominent member of both the John A. Dix and Phil Sheridan Corps, G. A. R., before and after their consolidation. He was also closely allied to the Christian church. His death after an illness of three weeks was caused by a complication of diseases and old age, as he was 79 years old.

COUNTY ROADS

Again in Horrible Cond.Hon
And Almost Beyond Travel.

The freeze and thaws together with the rain and snow that has fallen the past few months has again rendered the roads of Knox county almost impassable, and we hear people constantly complaining about the horrible condition.

The trouble is with the people themselves and it is within their power to remedy it. We have from time to time urged the importance of establishing a better road system for our county, but it seems that no heed has been given to our suggestions.

In many instances the roadbeds are so located as to make it next to impossible to ever have a good road, as in many instances the road is in the bed of the creek. There is no need of this. Land in this county is not so valuable that a reasonable amount of it could not be appropriated for public travel and roadbeds established where they could be properly worked and maintained.

What our county needs, and needs badly, is a Superintendent of Public Roads with the power to select a site for county roads and have them properly opened. Then by proper grading and draining a great per cent of the difficulty would be overcome.

While we have no limestone here with which we could macadamize our roads, yet we have an abundance of sandstone which if properly used, would make a much better road than anything we now have, and if the bed was properly prepared to receive it, would last for a long time.

Why not interest ourselves in this matter and build up a system of good roads throughout our county? It would almost double the value of our land and make travel much more pleasant and comfortable and would enable our farmers to reach a market with their produce with much more ease and comfort. Then why will we delay further and talk about the cost when by making these improvements our money would soon return to us twofold?

We can have good roads if the people will only demand them.

The West, Southwest and California.

Chamute, Kans., Feb. 18.
EDITOR ADVOCATE,
Barbourville, Ky.

DEAR MR. CLARK:—Enclosed find check for $4.00 to renew my subscription to your valuable paper one year and the Louisville daily and Sunday Herald.

One knows more how to appreciate your paper, than I, and I really did not know its true value until it has fallen my lot to be drifted so far away from my old Kentucky home and many friends whom I have left some 850 miles behind. And please allow me to assure you, my dear editor, that there will always be a warm spot in my heart for the welfare of my many Kentucky friends and truly hope that the ADVOCATE may continue to grow and become the leading mountain paper. The citizens ought to appreciate its efforts for the upbuilding of the city and county.

If you will spare me a few moments of your time I will endeavor to say a few words about our city and surroundings:

"Chamute," according to a late city directory, shows to have a population of 13,000; is situated in the midst of the best oil and gas belt; has living here over 200 conductors and engineers, 300 firemen, and 500 brakemen, employed by the Santa Fe railroad company, besides several employees of the M. K. & T., better known as the "Katy" railroad, also has round-house and shops, which give employment to many laborers. We also have many small factories here with good prospects for many more.

Owing to the fact caused by late acts passed by State Legislators appropriating $400,000 to establish refineries, and by so doing will create a demand for the immense output of natural gas for home consumption.

Good business men say the prospects for the growth of our city is very encouraging.

We are located on the southwest side of the city, seven squares from the main business part of the town, and we think have a good location, being only one square from the R. R. shops and near the two large brick plants. We have no cause to regret our investment, and think the future prospects encouraging.

With best wishes to the ADVOCATE and kindest regards to all my friends,
I am yours truly,
L. M. COLE.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST

Given at the Institute Chapel Wednesday Night Proved to be a Decided Success.

Last Wednesday night at the Institute Chapel a Declamatory Contest was given and a $10 gold medal was given as a reward for the best rendition of the subject.

The following program was carried out:

1. Short address by Judge F. D. Sampson. Subject—"Washington, the Father of Our Country."
2. Introductory Declamatory—Miss Standish. Subject—"The Boy Orator of Zepher."
- Then came the five contestants who had been selected by the professors to contest for the medal as follows:
Declamation—E. C. Barber, Barbourville, Ky. Subject—"Silent Voices."
Recitation—Elnora Pope, Bryant's Store, Ky. Subject—"Naughty Nell."
Declamation—Omar Clark, Barbourville, Ky. Subject—"The Boy Orator of Zepher."
Recitation—Hattie Smith, Barbourville, Ky. Subject—"Convent Joe."
Declamation—J. D. Stansberry, Knox Fork, Ky. Subject—"The Tell-Tale Heart."
Recitation—Julia Crosby, Bryant's Store, Ky. Subject—"Lassie."

COLLEGE NOTES

CRISP NEWS ITEMS DIRECT FROM EACH CAMPUS.

Union College Notes.

One of the ministerial students, coming in to the library during chapel services one morning last week, discovered Mr. Lawson Grindstaff studying. The shock was so great that the young man has not fully recovered and still looks pale and sickly.

The latest student to be enrolled in the music department is Mr. Wm. Dishman. He takes three lessons each week in an effort to learn the first rule of school.

Ernest Faulkner, the Philo's critic, and other members, are getting up an oratorical contest between the younger and new members. Three have entered and four or five more will take it up. The contest will be given in the hall at a time to be hereafter determined upon.

Among the new students this week is Miss May Deathridge, of Stanford, Kentucky.

Owing to the meeting now in progress at the M. E. church, the open session of the society, which was to be given to-night, has been postponed, and will be given as soon as the meeting closes. The main feature of the program will be a debate.

Dr. W. I. Watkins, upon his last visit, presented to the school a fine picture of the Board of Education, of the M. E. church. It hangs in the library. There are twelve members of the Board, one of whom is Mr. A. M. Decker, of this city.

Ernest Faulkner remained after school Tuesday afternoon to attend a little matter of "business" with Miss Lock.

Institute Notes.

The declamatory contest was a success and was well attended. Mr. J. D. Stansberry, of Knox Fork, won the $10 gold medal.

The Faculty is thankful to the judges who were kind to act in the contest. We also express our thanks to the public for the good order and to Mr. Will and Forest Baker and Mrs. McDermott for their music which added to the program.

Prof. Pope is now planning for an Inter-Collegiate Declamatory contest for March 25th. The following schools will participate: Union College, Sue Bennett, Barbourville Institute, Williamsburg Academy and Williamsburg Institute. There will be a $25 gold medal for the best declamation, and perhaps the first contest will be at Williamsburg; the second at Barbourville, and the third at London.

A number of our students are on the sick list.

Don't forget the lecture of Dr. Broyle, of Atlanta, Ga., at the Institute Chapel next Wednesday night. Subject: "The 'Seen and Unseen.'"

RUN DOWN

By Motor Car—Harvey Mc-Donald Seriously Injured at Wellsend.

Monday last Mr. Harvey McDonald, a brother of Postmaster D. McDonald, of this place, was run over by a motor car at the mines of the Pineville Coal and Coke company at Wellsend, and sustained serious, and perhaps fatal, injuries. His leg was broken and it is thought he was internally injured.

McDonald was coming down on track of the line-way and the car was approaching on what he thought to be another track. The light on the motor car had burned out, and it is claimed the driver did not see McDonald, while the darkness also made it hard to judge which track the car was on.

Judge McDonald and six other brothers of the injured man are now at his bedside.

LATER—The latest reports were to the effect that Mr. McDonald was just alive and the end is supposed to be near.

The Meeting.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church continues with the interest increasing all along. There have been a number of conversions and some other additions to the church.

Rev. Stratton has been preaching some very soul-stirring sermons, and sinners are made to tremble under the power of his preaching.

The church has been crowded to its capacity and some have been turned away. Should the weather continue favorable, large crowds would be in regular attendance.

The meeting will perhaps continue several days yet.

Call at this office for carbon. We keep the best that can be anywhere.

H. C. COLE, Mayor,

Attest: THOS. D. TINSLEY, Clerk.

A COON HUNT.

A very amusing incident occurred last week which was related to us as follows:

John Campbell started out to track coons in the snow, and presently struck a fresh track and followed it until it disappeared in the ground. He at once returned in hot haste for his gun and dogs and warned all his neighbors who joined in seeing the sport, but upon arriving at the place again beheld his coonship had left, so the trail was again taken up and soon found where he had again gone into the ground.

The question arose as to what they would do with the skin, and after that was settled work was begun to dig him out, after working faithfully for some time it was decided that one had better stand guard with gun in hand, as he would probably prove too much for the dogs, so while one waited with bated breath the others labored on until finally they broke in on him, and the dogs pulled him out, to find it was only a ground hog, and the boys were very much chagrined at their mistake.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home-Value at evening Tide.

"TOO MANY OF WE."

"Mamma is there too many of we?" The little girl asked with a sigh. "Perhaps you wouldn't be tired, you see."

"If a few of your child's should die."

She was only three years old—this one.

Who spoke in that strange, sad way.

As she saw her mother's impatient frown.

At the children's boisterous play.

There were half a dozen who round her stood.

And the mother was sick and poor, Worn out with the care of the noisy brood.

And the fight with the wolf at the door.

For a smile or a kiss, no time, no place;

For the little one least of all;

And the shadows that darkened the mother's face.

O'er the young life seemed to fall.

More thoughtful than any, she felt more care,

And wondered in childish way How to lighten the burden she could not share.

Growing heavier every day.

Only a week and the little Claire In her tiny white trundle bed,

Lay with blue eyes closed, the sunny hair Cut loose from the golden head.

"Don't cry," she said—the words were low,

Feeling tears she could not see—"You won't have to work and be tired so."

When there ain't so many of we.

But the child who went away From the home that for once was stilled.

Showed the mother's heart, from that dreary day.

What a place she had always filled.

IT is recorded in history that George Washington was born on the 22nd of February, 1732, and died December 14, 1799.

Physicians can diagnosis disease; astronomers can compute the distance between the heavenly bodies; but who can surmise the destiny of a child?

As we study the childhood of Washington we find nothing in his character or environments that seem to indicate his future greatness.

Is it not true that circumstances make men? George Washington, as a child, was much like other children of his time.

We are told he was no less flippant than hundreds of others in the colonies. He had no fewer faults than others with whom he was associated.

His veracity none can doubt, who have read the story of the hatchet. His knowledge of surveying caused him to spend three years of early manhood in the forests fixing boundary lines.

The lessons he learned from rugged nature were of priceless value to him in later years.

The eventual present cannot hide the past. Our statesmen and warriors have been born away on the tide of time, but their names are enshrined in the hearts of a grateful nation.

Our martyred presidents still claim a nation's homage and a nation's tears. Yet the name of Washington is emblazoned on the highest pinnacle of our nation's highest escutcheon.

When the infant colonies were struggling for their independence; when the skies were dark with ominous clouds of war—a mighty force being arrayed against them; it was he whom we delight to honor, who led this intrepid host to victory.

Amid all the triumphs and vicissitudes through which as a nation we have come since the 30th day of April, 1789, when George Washington was inaugurated the first president of the United States, the day of his birth has been celebrated by rich and poor, who lay laurels and burn incense on the altar of memory and patriotism.

SUBSCRIPTION.

One day recently a little girl came home from school and asked her mother what suspicion meant.

Her mother explained to the child, and in a few days she came in very much excited and said her pencil was gone.

"My pretty new red one, mamma, and I suspect the little girl sitting with me."

"You do?" exclaimed mamma.

"Yes suspect she does not know anything about it. I thought if I must suspect any one, I'd suspect the very goodest I could."

We thought to ourselves what a lesson? If we must suspect them suspect them of something good?"

Suspicion has been, and is the bane of society. Let a man do something that he isn't ready to confide or explain to his neighbors, and he will be suspected of everything, even to stealing a horse, or running away with his neighbor's wife.

Let a woman be reticent regarding her own affairs, the Oh! and Oh's! the shaking of heads, the whisperings, and such a woman will be suspected of anything from stealing a horse, to poisoning her husband or mother-in-law, or something equally as bad.

Let it be a young man or maiden. They all come in for their share of evil suspicions. Away with all evil thoughts and suspicions of our friends and neighbors.

"Evil be to him who evil thinks." If we must suspect each other why not do like the little girl and suspect them the "goodest ever we can."

And why not? Are we so anxious to think and believe evil of these around us? Can't we credit them with pure actions unless we see or show all they do?

Shame on us! when we come to such a state in our lives.

"Judge not lest we be judged," but rather let us learn a lesson from the child, and suspect good and not evil of our associates, and say in our hearts and lives.

"Yea, verily, a little child shall lead us."

READ THIS TO YOUR BOY.

Judge Wofford, Kansas City, in a recent address to boys, gave advice which, if heeded, would soon revolutionize the country.

It should be read to every boy in the United States:

"I have been on the bench fourteen years and during that time thousands of boys have been brought before me, but not one of them was a constant attendant at church or Sunday-school or obedient to his father or mother."

I have inquired of many boys what caused them to get into trouble and have found that in most instances, staying away from home and school, playing pool, hanging around saloons and cigarette smoking are responsible.

Start right, boys. To be anybody, to accomplish anything for yourself or the community you cannot be idle. Don't drink—liquor destroys the mind and body. Don't swear—gentlemen do not. It is low and vulgar.

Don't read trashy literature. It leads to the devil. Don't hang around saloons. Good men are not made that way. Whenever you see a man lying around a saloon the devil is after him and he will get him sooner or later.

Benjamin Franklin would never have been guilty of anything if he had been guilty of these practices. Be honest above all things. Poor boys make the best future citizens.

To make a good man you must be a good boy. So start right. The graveyards are filled with those who started wrong. The world is growing better. The teachings of Christ are beginning to be felt. Let me impress upon you the only road to success is by living a right life. Be honest, industrious, frugal. It is not necessary to be sanctimonious—to wear a long face. Keep laughing. Have a good time as you go through life, but let it be the right sort of good time. If we were all angels the world would not be fit to live in."

CORRESPONDENCE.

Ola, Ky.

[Get your manuscript in not later than Wednesday of each week.—Ed.]
Mrs. Wash Jenkins is quite sick this week.

Alphonso Bates, formerly of Viper, who was at home last week, left Sunday morning to resume his studies at the Lebanon, Ohio, Normal College.

Mr. G. T. Hall received a fine wild-cat a few days ago. The animal was killed by his son Ooran, down on Engine creek and was one of the largest ever brought to Whitesburg. Mr. Potter owns it now.

H. G. Franklin had the good luck to catch three coons during one of the cold days recently.

Dec Holbrooks, one of Ola's promising young men, was the guest of J. F. Franklin Saturday and Sunday.

W. W. Sergeant, the Whitesburg timber man, has been calling on friends on Colly during the past week.

Tillman Adams has returned from the State of Washington, where he has been for the past three years.

A hydrophobia epidemic among the dogs of the neighborhood is causing general alarm. The disease has been communicated to several persons during the week.

Preaching was held at the Colly church Saturday and Sunday. Services were conducted by Rev. Joseph Hall, of Millstone. A large and enthusiastic gathering was present.

Pricey, the young daughter of Rev. Joseph Hall, died last week. Her remains were laid to rest in the Millstone cemetery to await the resurrection. She leaves a host of friends. The friends and relatives of the deceased have our deepest sympathy.

The weather has been very severe.

R. K. Johnson, a prominent traveling salesman, of Richmond, was among the business men here Tuesday.

Hasting Bates returned Saturday night from a business trip to Roanoke and other cities in Virginia.

W. J. Bates, of Evans, spent a couple of days in the burg last week on professional business.

If the winter continues like it has been for the past week, this will prove one of the severest winters in the history of this section.

Victoria Holbrooks, who has been seriously ill at her home in this place for about three weeks, is improving, much to the delight of her many friends and acquaintances.

The ground hog may not have seen his shadow, but if he had of remained out he would have seen his finish.

G. B. Vaughn, the popular land agent for the Northern Coal and Coke Co., of Paintsville, was in Ola Tuesday night en route to Knott Floyd counties on business.

The Republicans will hold a primary election on April 11, 1905, to nominate candidates for the county and district offices. We believe there will be plenty of candidates. We wish them all good luck.

On last Tuesday death came to the home of Armina Riddle, of Etna, and took away one of her little children, Elizabeth. She was about ten years old. The cause of her death was typhoid fever. We all hope and trust that the dear one has gone to a better world, where she can dwell with Jesus Christ through all eternity, where sickness is unknown. May we all try to walk in the same footsteps.

BUCKEYE.

Crane's Nest.

Charley Botner, salesman for H. Donaldson & Co., was canvassing through here last week.

Jack Vaughn is now one of our riding horse and cattle dealers.

H. Black, one of leading saw mill men got on top again. We all hope to hear of his misfortune. Mr. Black is a hustler.

H. F. Black and wife were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Alfred Owens and William Baker have pulled up stakes in Ealey's hollow. Good bye, boys.

Zeb Garrison Shacker is logging on Ealey's branch.

Eli Hampton, of Ealey's, Ky., was in Corbin on a flying trip to see his wife.

Iabe Smith has purchased a half interest in the Hyden Water Well Drilling Co.

L. T. Botner, one of our old saw mill men, is at Ealey's this week.

EAGLE.

Bailey's Switch.

It is still winter—just one pretty day at a time.

Squire John Beatty died on the 18th after a long spell of fever. He was a liberal-hearted man, a good citizen and affectionate husband and a devoted father. He left a large circle of friends. The bereaved widow and orphan children have the heartfelt sympathy of all who know them.

Your correspondent has been confined to his room for the past week with the grip, but is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Wm. Lawson has the fever and is very low. Drs. Crit Jones and Dozier are attending her.

The following were on the sick list last week: E. Hutchins, Mrs. J. R. Bailey, Mrs. Ed. Ray, Mrs. James Ray and three children, Mrs. Isaac Garland and two children, Mrs. W. P. Dozier. All are better at this writing.

Mrs. James Jones, of Barbourville, is here with her sick mother, Mrs. Wm. Lawson.

John L. Dozier, of Barbourville, was here Saturday on business.

Dan Grace was in Corbin Sunday on business.

We are all pleased with our new postmaster at this place, Mr. Linville.

Mrs. Jennie Dozier, of Barbourville, visited friends on this creek last week.

C. B. Wilson and James Jones, of Jarvis' Store, were in Barbourville last Saturday on business.

J. H. Wooliam was in Barbourville Tuesday on business.

Since I began writing I have received a letter from my brother at Fernside, Bell county, to the sad effect of the death of Mrs. A. Davis at that place. Mrs. Davis was much beloved and admired by all who knew her. No richer prize could have been captured for heaven than Mrs. Davis. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn the loss of a dear mother my heartfelt sympathy with the bereaved ones.

W. S. TAYLOR.

Charley Jarvis, of Jarvis' Store, spent a few hours with us Monday.

Mr. W. M. Eaton, of Chenoa, Bell county, has just moved into our midst.

Mr. J. M. Beatty, one of Knox county's best citizens, died last Saturday night after about nine weeks' sickness. Mr. Beatty was a devout member of the Christian church, and his untimely death is a sad misfortune, not only to his bereaved family, but as well to all who knew him. We extend our sincere sympathy to the family and relatives in their great loss.

We understand that Jim Bailey is expecting company at his house in a few days.

Wm. Bailey had a severe spell of the blues this week. Really his girl ought to answer his letters.

Lee McBee's troubles have been very great for the past few weeks. He was very badly disappointed when John Parker County Court clerk, refused to issue him a license.

Frank Jackson was visiting in Pineville last Saturday and Sunday.
